

Dawn Figure - 2004

Still unfinished in 1997, this sculpture was the catalogue's frontispiece at David Wynne's important exhibition '50 Years of Sculpture' at The Mall Galleries. This imposing figure is carved from Norwegian Rose Marble an impressive feat for a sculptor in the latter half of his career given the physical demands of its creation. The exquisite grain and gentle colour compliment the figure of Aurora (Goddess of the Dawn) as she turns to bask in the light which beams down on her from above.

